

Auditorium Presentation

All the startups get 3-5 minutes each to present themselves through any mode of presentation in the auditorium in front of students, founders and members of other startups, investors and incubation centers. The startups are clubbed on the basis of their respective sectors. The startups get an opportunity to talk about their business models, projected vision, upcoming challenges, etc. Through the presentation, the startups get to determine how robust their numbers are, and how convincing their numbers are. The startups could even solicit live feedback from the audience and get to pitch for all the internship, live projects and collaboration opportunities, that will be showcased here.
